

5 By the sea

1 Read. Colour the fish and draw the missing animals.

‘Look at me, I’m swimming!’
That’s my sister, Sue.
‘Let’s look under the water, what can we see?’ I say to her.

With our masks on we put our faces into the water. I look over at Sue but she doesn’t see me, she’s looking at the fish: big and small, yellow, blue, green. There’s an octopus too. We can see two beautiful shells, and there’s even a starfish near a crab.

‘It’s beautiful,’ says Sue, as she lifts her face out of the water, ‘I want to be a fish!’

My sister Sue and I enjoy swimming in the sea. We like the animals we can see under the water. Sue is happy, and I’m happy too.
