How did they do that ?

Special effects in films have been around for many years. The first film to win an Oscar for the best special effects was The Rains Came back in 1939. Nowadays, special effects are amazing and you can easily forget the plot of the film and just watch the effects. One of the first films to use computer special effects to create a character was Young Sherlock Holmes in 1985. Powerful computers are needed to make special effects. It takes time and costs a lot of money but it's usually worth it and most films today have them. The three The Lord of the Rings films were made in 2001, 2002 and 2003 and all three won Oscars for the best special effects. And it's easy to see why!

1. When was the first Oscar for the best special effects given?

2. In which film was a character created by using a computer?

3. What do they use to make special effects?

4. Which films have won three Oscars for the best special effects?
