

1 Read the sentences (1–8) and write the type of conditional they are an example of (A, B, C or D).

- 1 If you use this product regularly, you will have smooth, silky hair. B
- 2 If that advert hadn't appeared on my web browser, I wouldn't have clicked on it.
- 3 Many music festivals wouldn't take place if they weren't sponsored by big corporations.
- 4 I'll buy it if I get paid tomorrow.
- 5 If a football team wears a sponsored kit, millions of people see it.

- A Zero conditional (general truths)
- B First conditional (likely events in the future)
- C Second conditional (unlikely situations in the present/future)
- D Third conditional (imaginary results of past situations that never happened)

2 Choose the correct option to complete the sentences.

- 1 If today was Sunday, I didn't have / wouldn't have to work.
- 2 I hadn't bought / wouldn't have bought those trainers if they hadn't been on offer.
- 3 I have a problem. If I see a new product, I want / wanted to buy it immediately.
- 4 If we are / were not too busy next week, I'll give you a ring.
- 5 How would you feel if your face appeared / appears in a TV ad?
- 6 If you hadn't helped / wouldn't help me, I never would have managed to finish on time.
- 7 I usually click on 'skip ad' when an advert will come / comes on.
- 8 What will she do if she doesn't get / wouldn't get into that university?

3 Cross out the mistakes in the sentences. Write the correct words.

- 1 If you get hungry later, ~~are you buying~~ a sandwich?
will you buy
- 2 I think we would lose if you hadn't scored that goal.
- 3 If Chris wouldn't work at the weekends, he would see his friends more often.
- 4 If you put your thumb here, the phone is unlocking itself.

- 3 You so much if you didn't spend all day looking at things to buy on your phone. (not want)
- 4 If I see her, I her you're looking for her. (tell)
- 5 If that jacket a bit cheaper, maybe I would buy it. (be)
- 6 If we that road, we wouldn't have discovered that amazing park. (not take)

5 Choose the correct options in the text.

Last month my company ran an advert during the Superbowl. Our 30-second ad cost us a total of $5.1 million. If we ¹ are showing / (had shown) the advert 24 hours earlier, it ² will cost / would have cost only $115,000, but do you know how many people watch the Superbowl each year? Roughly 100 million. And what ³ had happened / happens when that many people ⁴ watch / would watch your advert? Well, it's certainly good for business. If it ⁵ were / is my decision, of course, I ⁶ preferred / would prefer not to pay $5 million for 30 seconds of TV. You know, there's a famous saying in advertising: half of all the money you spend is a total waste. But nobody knows which half. Anyway, our Superbowl advert is right here on our website. ⁷ Do / Would you like to see it? Here, I ⁸ 'm showing / 'll show it to you.
