TAPESCRIPT

Interviewer: On today's programme we have teenage photographer Martina Lewis with us. When did you become interested in photography, Martina?

Martina: Well, I got my first camera when I was fourteen and I've just had my eighteenth birthday, so that was a few years ago. I won a photography competition and started taking photos for newspapers and magazines when I was sixteen.

Interviewer: Martina, what do you usually take pictures of?

Martina: Well, I'm a bit different from most of my friends who like taking photos of themselves or places that they visit. Most of my pictures are of big moments in people's lives.

Interviewer: What do you think was your first really good photo?

Martina: Good question. It was about two years ago. It was the last day of school. I was waiting for my brother when I saw a group of older boys from his football team. They were shouting and hitting each other.

Interviewer: Were they fighting?

Martina: They were enjoying themselves, actually. They were leaving school and they looked so happy. I found my mobile and I caught that moment on camera.

Interviewer: But that wasn't the photo that won, was it?

Martina: No. After that, I looked for more special moments. I've taken lots of photos of people getting married, some of university students getting their degree and even a few people getting their driving licence.

Interviewer: So which photo won the first prize?

Martina: It was called 'My First Day'. Last year my aunt Lucy had her first baby – my first cousin! I went to visit Lucy and her little boy a few hours after he was born. My grandma was there too. They all looked so happy that I had to take a photo of the baby.

Interviewer: Well, congratulations again, Martina ...

TAPESCRIPT

Interviewer: On today's programme we have teenage photographer Martina Lewis with us. When did you become interested in photography, Martina?

Martina: Well, I got my first camera when I was fourteen and I've just had my eighteenth birthday, so that was a few years ago. I won a photography competition and started taking photos for newspapers and magazines when I was sixteen.

Interviewer: Martina, what do you usually take pictures of?

Martina: Well, I'm a bit different from most of my friends who like taking photos of themselves or places that they visit. Most of my pictures are of big moments in people's lives.

Interviewer: What do you think was your first really good photo?

Martina: Good question. It was about two years ago. It was the last day of school. I was waiting for my brother when I saw a group of older boys from his football team. They were shouting and hitting each other.

Interviewer: Were they fighting?

Martina: They were enjoying themselves, actually. They were leaving school and they looked so happy. I found my mobile and I caught that moment on camera.

Interviewer: But that wasn't the photo that won, was it?

Martina: No. After that, I looked for more special moments. I've taken lots of photos of people getting married, some of university students getting their degree and even a few people getting their driving licence.

Interviewer: So which photo won the first prize?

Martina: It was called 'My First Day'. Last year my aunt Lucy had her first baby – my first cousin! I went to visit Lucy and her little boy a few hours after he was born. My grandma was there too. They all looked so happy that I had to take a photo of the baby.

Interviewer: Well, congratulations again, Martina ...

Boy: Alison, is your bike your favourite thing?

Alison: Well, it's special to me because it was given to me for my fourteenth birthday but I think I prefer my skateboard.

Boy: Really? Why is it important to you?

Alison: I saved up some money and I bought it for myself online. I got this cap for free, too.

2

Girl: Don't tell me Mark! Your favourite thing is your cat.

Mark: How did you know? Well, I love my mobile phone too.

Girl: We know that! You install new apps on it every day.

Mark: Yes and my computer is really useful for homework but my cat means more to me than anything else.

3

Boy: It's your turn Sara. What's your favourite thing?

Sara: I'm not sure. It might be this drawing or a novel perhaps.

Boy: You love cultural things, don't you?

Sara: No, I've changed my mind. It's some jewellery. It was given to me on my birthday by my parents.

4

Girl: You look exhausted Dan. Are you OK?

Dan: I'm fine. I've just finished this novel. It's the best book I've ever read!

Girl: Aha! Is that your favourite thing – apart from your baseball cap that is?

Dan: Well, if I had to choose, it would have to be my mobile phone.

5

Boy: Have you made up your mind yet, Carol? What's your favourite thing?

Carol: Let's see if you can solve this puzzle. It's quite small and it's made of wood.

Boy: Is it that box you use for your jewellery?

Carol: No, it isn't. It's that small sculpture that you brought back from Italy.

Boy: Alison, is your bike your favourite thing?

Alison: Well, it's special to me because it was given to me for my fourteenth birthday but I think I prefer my skateboard.

Boy: Really? Why is it important to you?

Alison: I saved up some money and I bought it for myself online. I got this cap for free, too.

2

Girl: Don't tell me Mark! Your favourite thing is your cat.

Mark: How did you know? Well, I love my mobile phone too.

Girl: We know that! You install new apps on it every day.

Mark: Yes and my computer is really useful for homework but my cat means more to me than anything else.

3

Boy: It's your turn Sara. What's your favourite thing?

Sara: I'm not sure. It might be this drawing or a novel perhaps.

Boy: You love cultural things, don't you?

Sara: No, I've changed my mind. It's some jewellery. It was given to me on my birthday by my parents.

4

Girl: You look exhausted Dan. Are you OK?

Dan: I'm fine. I've just finished this novel. It's the best book I've ever read!

Girl: Aha! Is that your favourite thing – apart from your baseball cap that is?

Dan: Well, if I had to choose, it would have to be my mobile phone.

5

Boy: Have you made up your mind yet, Carol? What's your favourite thing?

Carol: Let's see if you can solve this puzzle. It's quite small and it's made of wood.

Boy: Is it that box you use for your jewellery?

Carol: No, it isn't. It's that small sculpture that you brought back from Italy.

TAPESCRIPT

Radio presenter

Just before we finish the show, I'd like to tell you about an incredible event called Teenage Years. The event opened to visitors on the ninth of March and I went to the special evening tour on the eleventh. It's at the exhibition centre until the fifteenth of March. You're invited to visit three different areas: Sports World, It's My Life and That's Entertainment. In each area you can try different activities like rock climbing in Sports World or become a DJ for 30 minutes in That's Entertainment. In It's My Life, you can taste unusual food from all over the world. You really must try the delicious kangaroo burger – you won't be disappointed! I didn't enjoy the snake burger as much and I thought the shark burger was quite disgusting, so don't try that!

So how much does all this cost? Well, if you buy your ticket when you get there, it's £10 for adults and £8 for under-16s. But there's a special offer for those of you who buy your ticket on the internet. It's only £6 for under-16s. And here's some great news! They're giving away four tickets to the event. Just go to the webpage and do a search for the competition. You'll need today's password to enter when you're on the Friday afternoon show webpage and it's 'Teenage Years'. OK, that's all from me, Ben Hall ...
